MAYA LINDQVIST

Lead Product Designer · Copenhagen, Denmark
hello@maya.example · maya.example · +45 00 00 00 00

PROFILE

Product designer with ten years of experience in health and mobility products. I lead design systems work, run research with vulnerable users and care about accessibility from the first sketch. Comfortable as a hands-on designer and as a lead for a small team.

EXPERIENCE

Fernhill Health, Copenhagen
Lead Product Designer, Jan 2024 – present
- Lead the Design Systems team (3 designers, 2 engineers) and the Fjord design system.
- Set the accessibility baseline (WCAG 2.2 AA) for all patient-facing apps.
- Report to Elena Kovac, Head of Design.

Senior Product Designer, Mar 2021 – Dec 2023
- Redesigned the appointment booking flow; drop-off fell from 31% to 12%.
- Started Fjord in 2022 as a shared component library for six product teams.

Kestrel Mobility, Rotterdam
Product Designer, Aug 2017 – Feb 2021
- Member of the Rider Experience team: onboarding, payments and trip planning.
- Led design of Waypoint (2019–2020), the multimodal trip planner, built on the Wayfinder SDK.
- Ran fortnightly usability sessions with riders.

Brightwater Studio, Stockholm
Junior UX Designer, Sep 2015 – Jun 2017
- Wireframes and prototypes for retail and public-sector clients.

EDUCATION

MSc Human-Computer Interaction, Kungsholm Institute of Technology, Stockholm, 2013 – 2015
Thesis: "Calm notifications for shift workers"
BA Graphic and Interaction Design, Hallström School of Design, Stockholm, 2010 – 2013

CERTIFICATIONS

Nordic Accessibility Practitioner Certificate, 2022

SKILLS

Interaction design · Prototyping · Design systems · User research · Accessibility (WCAG) · Workshop facilitation · Figma · Framer · HTML and CSS

LANGUAGES

Swedish (native) · English (fluent) · Dutch (professional working proficiency) · Danish (B1)

VOLUNTEERING

Mentor, Design Bridge mentoring network, 2020 – present

SIDE PROJECTS

Contrast Club (2019 – present): open-source Figma plugin that checks colour contrast, co-maintained with Priya Natarajan. About 4,000 weekly users.